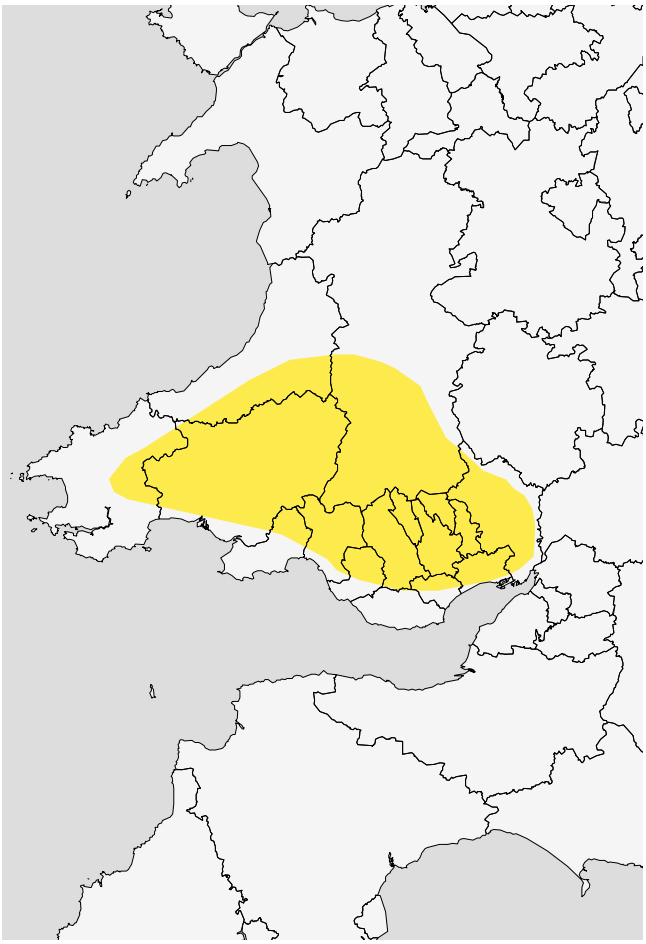
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
09:00 Sun 23 Feb 2025 and
21:00 Sun 23 Feb 2025



There is a small chance of flooding, including of properties, from heavy rain during Sunday.

What to expect

- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded, causing damage to some buildings
- Where flooding occurs, delays or cancellations to train and bus services are likely
- Spray and flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a slight chance of power cuts and loss of other services to some homes and businesses
- There is a small chance that a few smaller communities could become temporarily cut off by flooded roads

Further details

A broad band of occasionally heavy rain will push east during Sunday, bringing a spell of around 9-12 hours of rain. The rain will set in around mid-morning and not clear until around mid-evening. The rain will be heaviest over high ground, especially over south or southwest-facing upslopes. Widely 30-50 mm of rain is expected, but 60-90mm is possible in the wettest, most exposed places.

What Should I Do?

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding.

Very low likelihood of medium impacts

If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
